BASBWE publishes Winds magazine
Winds, published quarterly, is indispensable reading for anyone interested in wind music.

BASBWE commissions new music
More than 50 works have been commissioned over the past 20 years under the auspices of BASBWE, transforming the repertoire available to bands.

BASBWE presents a regular conference
The event for wind band enthusiasts, with gala concerts, masterclasses, internationally renowned soloists, conductors and workshops plus a major trade exhibition over three days.

BASBWE organises regional events
Regional Festivals, community band courses, conducting workshops and training days are held around the country on a regular basis.

BASBWE Education Trust
With charitable status, the Trust promotes the formation of bands, organises training events, administers the College Commission Consortium and awards bursaries.

All BASBWE members can access the services of the BASBWE Education Trust.

BASBWE promotes an annual residential conducting course
